Endorsements

I've been a part of the CHIEF Community because it's more than just a networking event - it's a place where I've built strong relationships with hoteliers and reconnected with friends in the industry. These connections have not only helped me professionally with growing within the Caribbean Market, but they've also fostered a sense of community that extends beyond the trade show floor.

-Ana Forister, VP of Sales, ADA International.

CHIEF is much more than just an event. It's a gathering of the region's most experienced hoteliers and hospitality technologists, coming together to openly share their practical findings and learn from one another. The networking opportunities and partnerships that we developed have lasted well beyond the event itself. We are grateful and delighted that CHIEF is back in full force.

-Nima Anvar, CEO GuestChat
